ANDIT TRIO LOOT BANK AT PLAINFIELD

BOBBERY TAKES PLACE LATE MONDAY AFTERNOON IN HENDRICKS COUNTY.

OBTAIN MORE THAN $3,000.00

Crooks Force Bank Clerks to Lay Face Down on Floor While They Take Cash. No Cries.

Although notices have been sent in all directions, no definite clues have been received of the three well-dressed young men armed with revolvers and unmasked who held up the Citizens State Bank at Plainfield at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, obtaining between $3,000 and $6,000.
Ralph B. Hornaday, assistant cashier Miss Evangeline Cook, bookkeeper, and Mrs. Della Bryant, a woman cleaning the bank, were forced to lie face downward on the floor while the bandits scooped up all the money in sight. Later the three were locked behind the grill door, Roy Moore, manager of a grocery, later entered the bank and released them.

The robbers made their escape in two cars. The license number of one, a Willys-Knight, was taken by a pedestrian as "Ind. 26-13241." The other is believed to be a Ford. The car which has been kept in a local garage for several days.

Two of the bandits had been standing in the bank, stating they were waiting for a bus. When the third bandit entered he said "all right" and the robbers drew their guns. G. M.
Brown, president was absent when the holdup took place and Emil B.
Kills, cashier, had been called to Danville, Ind., in a special jury venire in the Gene Alger murder trial. The bank is capitalized at $25,000, with a surplus of $25,000. Theft insurance was carried by the bank.

Greencastle and Putnam county authorities received word of the robbery soon after it occurred and were on the watch for any suspicious characters Friday evening and night.

TO CONTINUE POLICY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. (UP)— The administration is determined to continue its present Nicaraguan-Mexican policy regardless of criticism.

Indignant over reports that the State Department is preparing to modify its central American policy to conform with demands of foreign cities and Congressional opposition led by Sen. Borah, secretary of State Kellogg today issued this statement:
"There has been no change whatever in this Government's policy toward Nicaragua as offered in the President's message."

"From the beginning of the trouble over a year ago, the United States has offered its good offices and exercised its influence to compose the difficulty."

The same attitude has existed ever since Diaz was elected President, nor is any change contemplated.

ENGLAND IS DETERMINED TO PROTECT FOREIGNERS
IN TROUBLE ZONE.

LONDON, Jan. 18. (UP)—With the British Government intent upon a determined but liberal stand toward China in the face of anti-foreign disturbances, 57 British warships today were within easy cruising radius of Shanghai and 26 more either were enroute to the far east or in readiness to sail at instant notice.

At a special cabinet meeting yesterday continued treatment with Chinese officials on a liberal basis was authorized.

TRAGEDY.

MOSCOW, Jan. 18. (UP)—Dispatches from the Province of Samara today said 98 persons had been found frozen to death aboard two railway trains that had been stalled in snow drifts. Extremely heavy snow fall of the Volga River valley.

NATION FOR COOLIDGE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—President Coolidge's message to Congress on Mexican-Nicaraguan relations hit the country in the right spot and at the right time. We are a peaceful people but not pacifist, we are a just but not truculent people. But the time had arrived when it was necessary to make clear that what we were demonstrating was fairness and not meekness. There were some timid souls who began to pyramid an ultimatum on the message. There be no fear of such a happening. Until the time the message was written, there was a distinct possibility that our Mexican neighbor unchecked might have passed from one stage of pin pricking to another so that an ultimatum might have become an absolute necessity for protection of American rights and property. The very firmness of the message has eliminated that possibility.

CHAPLIN WILL FIGHT ALIMONY GRANTED WIFE

FAMOUS MOVIE COMEDIAN TO TAKE LEGAL ACTION IN CASE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (UP)— Charlie Chaplin today announced through his attorney that he will fight the alimony award granted his wife, Lita Grey, in Los Angeles yesterday.

Mrs. Chaplin, in the first move in her suit for divorce against the comedian, was granted $4,000 a month alimony and $4,000 for counsel fees.

Na-han Burkan, attorney for Chaplin was emphatic in a statement today that Mrs. Chaplin had no claim on Chaplin's corporate properties.
"It's part of a cooked-up play to get Chaplin's money," Burkan asserted, in protesting against what he termed the illegality of the receivership appointed for the Chaplin properties.

He denied that Chaplin had refused to support his wife or two children.
In fact, Burkan claimed, Chaplin offered $500,000 to his wife before he left Los Angeles, only to have it refused by her attorneys.

Meanwhile, the comedian was recuperating rapidly from the nervous breakdown which forced him to bed upon his arrival here from the west.

LOCAL MEN'S CASE TO JURY ON THURSDAY

ATTORNEY GILLEN BELIEVES IT WILL TAKE TWO DAYS OR MORE.

TO DELVE INTO EVIDENCE

Wayne Linberger and Robert Gibson Charged With Criminal Assault On Brazil Girl, Dec. 25.

C. C. Gillen, one of the attorneys for Wayne Linberger and Robert Gibson, who are charged with criminal assault on a Brazil girl, stated Tuesday morning as he left for the Clay circuit court that the jury would probably get the case some time Thursday as near as he could tell now.

In speaking of the local men's trial on Monday the Brazil Times says:

The state outlined its case to the jury this morning, telling how Mary Belle Anderson and Nera Overstreet, accepted rides in a one seated Ford, on the night before Christmas, the young men having promised to take the girls home. Instead of taking them home, however, is charged the young men drove them to Terre Haute where the men got liquor at a "blind tiger" one of them got sick on the way home. The Overstreet girl was taken home but it is alleged the young men drove by the Anderson home and took the girl to an out of the way location where they both ravaged her.

According to the statement of Attorney Gillen, one of the array of attorneys for the defense, from Greencastle, Crawfordsville, and Brazil the young men admit parts of the crime but charge that they were encouraged by the girl in their acts.

The whole case involves many repulsive facts which will be brought out during the trial today and tomorrow, with the usual influence of the "jazz age"—automobiles with young men out for a lark, girls out late with strange fellows, "bootleg" liquor and the like.

KEEP STATE ROADS OPEN FOR TRAFFIC

RECENT SNOWS CAUSE HIGH-WAY EMPLOYEES TO WORK DAY AND NIGHT.

LARGE TRUCKS ARE USED

State Roads 36 and 43 Through Putnam County Kept Open By Hard Work.

The snow storm last week struck State Road 36 with particular force in Putnam County, and to a less extent, in Hendricks county. This road passes through flat country beginning less than a mile west of Bain bridge and extending west almost to the intersection with State Road 43.
Snow falling along this section is picked up by wind and piled into drifts, which, in the case of this last storm, were the worst known along that road in many years, not so much for their depth but for their extent.
In some places the accumulations of snow were three feet deep and several hundred feet wide, a succession of barriers that nearly stopped travel.

A similar situation existed on that highway west of Morton, and also along the first half-mile west of Danville in Hendricks county. These drifts were attacked by the State Highway forces at once, but the efforts of men and equipment were of little avail. State Highway equipment that was disabled by the resistance of the snow was strung along the road for several miles, including heavy trucks, graders and a caterpillar tractor. Men worked day and night during the below-zero weather in an effort to free the road from the impediment to travel. The big tractor was put in the forefront of the attack again Monday, and it accomplished the desired result. It was hitched to a grader having a twelve-foot blade and weighing seven thousand pounds.

On the National road, the snow between Putnamville and Plainfield, almost twenty miles, was removed by three big trucks and a grader similar to the above, the men driving through one night and the following day without stopping for rest.

On road 43, the sixteen miles north from Greencastle were cleared of snow to sufficient width by the night and day work of men and equipment.

SUIT FOR A MILLION

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 18. (UP)— Suit for $1,000,000, brought by Harrison White, Indianapolis, against the members of the Indianapolis and Indiana bar associations was on file today in Federal court here.

White charges he was refused the right to practice law in Indiana in direct violation of the state constitution. He specifically attacked a rule of the Indianapolis Bar association which makes it necessary for all applicants to pay a $10 fee to a committee of three who pass upon the applications.

The suit was based on refusal of Judge Harry O. Chamberlin of the Marion circuit court to admit him to the local bar to practice law.

MRS. FERGUSON NOW.

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 18. (UP)—The governor of Texas, Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, became just plain "Ma" Ferguson today.

After stepping out of the gubernatorial mansion, probably for the last time, Mrs. Ferguson is going back to Temple, Tex., to forget her worries in office.

FIVE ROAD PETITIONS ARE ON FILE

COUNTY AUDITOR RECEIVES REQUESTS FOR PAVED
HIGHWAYS.

COMING UP IN FEBRUARY

Greencastle Township Is Building Its Own Roads and Paying One-Third of County Roads.

John H. James, attorney for Putnam County, filed with W. D. Lovett, auditor, on Tuesday, the five road petitions signed by several hundred taxpayers of the county, asking for the improvement of roads in Marion, Jefferson, Russell, Clinton, Franklin, Monroe and Washington townships, under the County Unit highway law.

The petitions will come before the Board of Commissioners at their February meeting, and according to the interest taken and reports heard from over the county, they will be acted on favorably.

It has been said that some complaint was made about the roads benefiting Greencastle city and township. This is a mistake, in that none of the roads touch Greencastle city or township. They begin at the township line and run to points outward.
Greencastle city and township are building hard surfaced roads to the points where these roads begin. Putnam county has an assessed valuation of slightly more than $36,000,000 and of this total, Greencastle city and township are assessed at about $12-000,000.

Greencastle city and township are paying their own roads at their own cost, and are paying one-third of the cost of construction on the county unit highways outside the township, through their one-third assessed valuation. If these figures are studied at all, it will be plainly seen that the taxpayers here are putting up for their own roads and at the same time are paying one-third of the cost of the roads being built for the benefit of the out-township highways under the county unit plan of construction.

The Commissioners will probably award a contract for the construction of the three highways in this township for concrete or some other hard surface, at their meeting in February, as bids have been asked for on February 7. With the construction of these three roads, and the five under the county unit highway. Putnam county will have a system of hard surfaced highways that will benefit every user of roads.

LEGION IN SESSION

The Fifth district of the American Legion of Indiana held third place among the districts in membership standings as the state department swung into action at the zero hour Monday morning of a three-weeks, state-wide membership campaign, according to information sent by Department Adjutant J. H. Klinger to Vachel Dunlop of Clinton, district committeeman.

The district, with a percentage of 34, was excelled by the Eleventh district quota has been set at 1,443.

Brazil held honors among the posts within the district with a total of 181 members reported and 90 per cent of its quota. Rockville held second place in percentages with 57.

Clinton with 96 members reported held the second largest total. It was surpassed only by Brazil, which defied Clinton in a novel membership contest. As a result, Clinton Legionnaires are required to clean the main street of Brazil on the night of January 28.

North Salem had 40 per cent of its quota and Danville 29 per cent. Terre Haute had reported 90 members.

Posts making no report to state headquarters include: B-wing Green Linton, Russellville, Cloverdale, Lewis Plainfield, Brownsburg and Clay City.

Prizes will be awarded by the state department to the posts making the highest percentage over the quotas assigned and also to the individual Legionnaires turning in the largest number of memberships by the end of the "first wave" on Saturday. The prizes are, in each class: First $5, second, $3, and third, $2.

The funeral of Mrs. Simpson Mc-Gaughey who passed away Monday at the county hospital, will be held here at the Community Church at Fin-castle on Wednesday morning at 11: o'clock. Rev. O. W. McGaughey of look for the future.

the past year were re-elected and are as follows: Jesse M. Coffin, chairman; William T. O'Hair; George E.
Knauer; Morton Smith; Jesse M.
Jones.

duration.

Mr. Grove was a life-long resident of Clay county, and for many years was connected with the coal mine industry in that district. The funeral services will be held at the home on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock with

INCOME TAX REGULATIONS OF INTEREST

BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVE-NUE SENDS OUT INFOR-MATION.

MANY QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Article Published Below Tells Just Who Must Pay Income Tax, When and Where.

This article is one of several, the Internal Revenue Department has issued on the income tax problem for this year, and will be followed by others explaining in detail, the various problems facing those who pay income taxes.

WHO? Single persons who had more, and married couples who net income of $1,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period ends March 15, 1927.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? Instructions on Forms 1040A and 1040; also the law and regulations.

WHAT? One and one-half per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemptions and credits.
Three per cent normal tax on the next $4,000. Five per cent normal tax on the balance of net incomes, surtax on net income in excess of $10,000.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Thousands of letters have reached the Bureau of Internal Revenue relative to changes in tax legislation.
Taxpayers desire to know the benefits to which they are entitled under the new law. The Bureau has increased exemptions, lower rates, the credit of 25 per cent of the tax on earned net incomes, and the allowable deductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, contributions, etc. The purpose of the Bureau of Internal Revenue is to answer these questions in a series of newspaper statements, based on the revenue act of 1926 and the latest regulations relating to the income tax.

Income tax returns are required of every single person whose net income for the taxable year 1926 was $1,500 or more; every married person, living with husband or wife, whose net income was $3,500 or more, and every person, single or married, whose gross income was $5,000 or more, regardless of net income.

If the combined net income of husband and wife was $3,500 or more, or their combined gross income was $5,000 or more, the income of each must be reported on a single joint return or on separate returns showing the income of each. If wife does not file a separate return or join with her husband in a joint return, the husband is required to include in his return an income received by his wife in payment of wages or salary, or from the sale of property, or from his labor. In the return of married persons must be included all so the income of dependent minor children.

Divorcees and married persons separated by mutual consent are classified as single persons for the purpose of the income tax laws.

Gross income, as defined by Treasury regulations, "includes, in general, compensation for personal and professional services, profits from sales of and dealings in property, interest, rent, dividends, and gains, profits, and income derived from any source whatever, unless exempt from tax by law."

Net income, upon which the tax is assessed, is gross income less certain specified deductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, taxes, contributions, etc.

The return for the calendar year 1926 must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer has his legal residence or principal place of business on or before March 15, 1927. The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return, or in four equal installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15, 1927.

PLAN SCHOOL ON WHEELS

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 18. (UP)—A traveling school on wheels and rails to show in all parts of the state the manifold uses to which electricity may be put on farms, is the largest project of the Agricultural Experimental station of Purdue University.

Beginning the week of January 24, a specially equipped interurban car will traverse Indiana over interurban lines to demonstrate the employment of electricity in the operation of milking machines, cream separators, poultry house lighting system, incubator, water supply system, and job motors for use in running grindstones, running churning, fanning mills, washing machines, cream separators, corn sheller, ensilage cutter, feed grinder, cider press, wood saw and other farm equipment.

To attract the feminine eye, the car will carry a modern electric kitchen, planned by Miss Kathryn McMahon, of the Purdue Home Economics department.

Purdue instructors will man the car and demonstrate the appliances, under the direction of Truman E. Henton.

County agents are arranging for meetings in larger towns, while interurban officials are planning the schedule so that every point on Indiana's notable traction network may be reached.

Traction lines and the Indiana Electric Light Association as cooperating under the chairmanship of C. V. Sorenson, Attica.

MAX ROSEN, VIOLINIST.

Max Rosen, who will give a concert in Meharry Hall on Friday night at 8 o'clock, is one of the very few great living violinists. He is in the class with Elman and Heifetz. He is one of the world renowned artists and probably Greencastle and DePauw have never had the opportunity of hearing as great an artist in the violin field as Rosen. Of his first concert in New York after his study in Europe, this criticism was made: "At Carnegie Hall, that increasingly admirable violinist, Max Rosen, made his first New York appearance since 1921. We say increasingly admirable, since the gain which he evidences as an artist was little short of remarkable. Mr. Rosen has always been considered a good violinist. Now he appears as an extraordinarily fine one."

Because of a favorable arrangement with Mr. Rosen's managers, the prices of admission have been changed to $1.00 and 75c instead of $1.50 and $1.00 as at first advertised. Tickets for the concert will be on sale at Stevens Drug Store beginning Wednesday morning.

State AuditorLEGISLATIVE ACTION TAKES IN THE OFFICE OF BOWMAN.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 18. (UP)—The Legislative spotlight swung today to the office of state Auditor Lewis S. Bowman, who was drafted in an important role in the assembly's self-styled "Comedy of Errors" over its own pay.

The Senate and house late yesterday passed over the veto of Gov. Jackson the bill to increase salaries of members of the legislature $4 a day during the present session.

Action in both houses was decisive. Party lines were ignored. By a vote of 84 to 15 in the house and 40 to 8 in the senate, legislators spoke their determination to receive $10 a day instead of $6.

It was expected today that Auditor Bowman would side along with the Governor, whose veto was prompted by an adverse opinion on the constitutionality of the measure by attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom. Bowman, it is understood, will refuse to issue pay warrants on the increased basis, but will insist that the legislative salary be limited to the old per diem of $6.

Preparing for this emergency, attorneys in both houses are considering their next move to bring the question into court in an effort to force the Auditor to honor the increased rate of pay.

If it is necessary to institute a suit in one of the Marion County Courts to bring the matter to attention of the Supreme court, then this action will be taken declared Lemuel A. Pittenger, majority floor leader of the house today.

INDIANAPOLIS LIVESTOCK

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 18.—A heavy run of 8,000 hogs and a general feeling among traders that prices were too high forced pork prices to a 10 to 15 cent drop on the Indianapolis livestock market today.

The top price on today's market was $12.50 but the bulk of the sales moved at $12.10 to $12.25.

Cattle held about steady with receipts estimated at 1,300. Beef cows showed a slightly higher tendency and were quoted at $5.25 to $6.75.

Veals were generally 50 cents up, the run of 700 being hardly enough to fill the demand. Bulk of the choice calves brought $16 down.

Sheep and lambs were strong to 25 cents up with a few westerns bringing $14, the top price. Receipts were estimated at 700.

At The Movies
OPERA HOUSE

"The Greater Glory" based on the Viennese Medley is the attraction at the Opera House tonight. It is a story of gay Vienna at the outbreak of the World War and how the mighty conflict sweeps aside barriers, causes immorality and how love and regeneration emerge triumphant. Anna Q. Nilsson, Conway Tearle and Jean Herschell portray the featured roles. The stupendous scenes, lavish parties and luxurious gowns of the women add much to the engrossing plot.

any military scenes in it—that is the paradoxical feat of Clarence Brown, famous screen director, in "Flesh and the Devil," now playing at the Voncaste Theatre, with John Gilbert, Gerta Garbo, Lars Hanson and a famous cast.

The story, a vivid drama of German life just before the war, is adapted from the great Suderman drama, "The Undying Past" it portrays the rigid militaristic spirit of the times—even affecting home life in its inflexible conventions of love and marriage, which precipitate the tremendous dramatic situation in the new play.

The undersigned resident freeholder and voters of Claydon Township, Putnam County, Indiana, respectfully petition your Honorable Board that the following described Public Highway located in said Claydon Township, known as a part of Putnamville and known as Highway 10, and described as follows:—Beginning on the North line of Section 17 Township 12 North of Range 4 West, in Putnam County, Indiana, at a point where said Putnamville and known as Highway 10, there is a southerly direction with said Putnamville and known as Highway 10, running east and west, thence east about one fourth of a mile to the James Williamson Improved Highway, the Highway then southerly to be improved by grading, draining and bridging is about three-fourths of a mile in length and connects with improved Highway at both ends.

Your Petitioners ask that your Honorable Board that this Highway be improved by grading, draining and paving the same with stone or gravel or some other suitable material. And your petitioners will ever pray.

Subscribed by Alancy Farmer and 76 others.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of my office at Greencastle, Indiana this 4th day of January, 1927.

ANTIGO, Wis., Jan. 13. (UP)—While excavating on a farm near here, farmers unearthed an old beaver dam buried nearly three feet under the normal water level of Lake Go-To. Exactly Suited to the needs of Elderly People

There is a sound therapeutic reason why Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs and colds is especially suited to the needs of elderly people. Because it contains no chloroform, no opiate to cause constipation (that bugbear of advancing years) and to dry up the natural, necessary secretions. It is easily laxative, wonderfully soothing and healing to the irritated area. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is a fine dependable family medicine for all coughs and throat irritations, laryngitis, "flu" coughs and disturbing night coughs.

After the "Flu" is over —you need a Tonic Help is Needed to Restore Your Wasted Strength and Energy.

"Flu" leaves the body weakened and rundown. In such cases, a tonic is clearly indicated. Restores the appetite and rid yourself of that let-down feeling.

"Flu" is a very enervating disease. It leaves its victims so weak and debilitated that there is as much danger from the after-effects as from the disease itself. In other words, after an attack of the "flu," you need a tonic.

tonic to rebuild the system so that you may have your old-time strength and energy restored.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable.

S.S.S. is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in this area. The larger size is more economical.

Mrs. Burton Advises Women on Motherhood and Companionship

"For several years I was denied the blessing of motherhood," writes Mrs. Margaret Burton of Kansas City. "I was terribly nervous and subject to periods of terrible suffering and melancholia. Now I am the proud mother of a beautiful little daughter and a true companion and inspiration to my husband. I believe hundreds of other women would like to know the secret of my happiness, and I will gladly reveal it to any married woman who will write me."

Mrs. Burton offers her advice entirely without charge. She has nothing to sell. Letters should be addressed to Mrs. Margaret Burton, 2178 Massachusetts, Kansas City, Mo. Correspondence will be strictly confidential.

It is common knowledge that Dodge Brothers Motor Cars command exceptionally high prices at re-sale.

Good Health Requires Good Elimination

To be well, you must keep the blood stream free from impurities. If the kidneys lag, allowing body poisons to accumulate, a toxic condition is created. One is apt to feel dull, languid, tired and aching. A nagging backache is sometimes a symptom, with drowsy headaches and dizzy spells. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. If you have reason to suspect improper kidney functioning, try Doan's Pills—a tested stimulant diuretic. Users praise them throughout the United States. Ask your neighbor!

"GREENCASTLE'S DOMINANT ESTABLISHMENT SINCE 1900."

FIRST YEARS ARE HARDEST

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Jan. 18.—The first ten years after graduation are years of shattered disillusionment and discouragement in many cases, according to Prof. Ordway Tead, of the Harper Bros. publishing Co., in an address before the students of the commerce department of Indiana University.

The first 10 years are nearly always the hardest, Tead declared. "If a college graduate can survive successfully the first 10 years after he is awarded his sheepskin he can confidently expect success."

Discussing executive problems, Prof. Tead declared the one key problem of executives "is to influence people to do what you, as executive, want them to do."

"Careful and expert instruction to new workers, assurance of steady employment, adequate vacations and house organs keep employees in the mood for efficient work," he pointed out.

BANKS BELIEVE

IN ADVERTISING

During 1927, the banks of the country will spend more than $15,000,000 in advertising, according to an estimate made by a Chicago advertising agency, made public Dec. 18, by the New York Evening Post. About half of this sum will go to the newspapers.

Considering financial advertising as a unit the Chicago authority expects the appropriation to reach a total of $50,000,000.

In the bank estimate the advertisements of bond issues is not included. The amount of this depends on the extent of the financing during the year. No statistical record of this kind of advertising is kept, but the guess of well-informed advertising men is that it has probably exceeded $30,000,000 during 1926, and the total estimate on expenditures for financial advertising this year is more than $40,000,000.

Banks are more consistent advertisers than ever before. The number maintaining well considered advertising programs increases annually. Old-time haphazard advertisers are giving more thought to their publicity.

Washington has the Victory Brick but what we want to know is whether Washington will have it after the Hatchets meet the Cubs. Can the down-staters chop their way to a victory or will the Tiger Cubs claw through to win over the visitors? We will answer th's question next Friday night about 9-15 p. m.

Brazil fans enjoyed the game here Saturday night and were well pleased over the showing of their team against the Tiger Cubs. In speaking of the foul goal tossed by Johnson which won the game for Greencastle, the Brazil sports editor says:

"His team mates slapped him on the back and admonished him to do his durndest. The crowd was as nervous as a jelly fish on a Ford fender but Johnson was as cool as a bank cashier. The boy wore a poker face and displayed no excitement. Taking careful aim he sent the ball through the iron rim, which, to the Brazil rooters, looked like a walnut going over Niagara Falls and being swallowed up by the whirlpool."

Jack Steward, DePauw forward, is included on Blaine Patton's honor roll for the week in the Indianapolis Star's basketball column. Sturtridge or Messersmith would have looked good in this list also.

"TRACKED BY THE POLICE," starring Rin-Tin-Tin, is a Warner Bros. production of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

In France Jimmy Ford adopts a police puppy, names it Rin-Tin-Tin and smuggles it home. Murtagh, a crooked politician, covets Jimmy's sweetheart, Ruth Allen. Jimmy's father, a police lieutenant, is mysteriously murdered. Jimmy joins the Force to avenge him. Jimmy has an ally in Rinty, now full-grown. Murtagh, hating and fearing Jimmy, has him assigned to the leading neighborhood of the Hudson Busters, a gang he secretly leads. Ambushed, Rinty and Jimmy fight a terrible battle with the gang. Jimmy is shot. Rinty summons aid. Thinking he is dying, Jimmy gives Rinty a message to his mother—

So Rinty was entrusted with the poignant, delicate mission; while with genuine relief at being himself freed of the usual police departmental obligation, which requires the closest of a wounded or dead officer's pals to bear the tragic news to his afflicted relatives, Officer Flaherty secured the note into Rinty's collar. Jimmy, himself, gave the noble dog a final pat, a word of loving encouragement, and the short instruction: "Home, Rinty—take that to Mother!"

Though obviously reluctant to leave the side of his Master, with Rinty to get an order was to obey. He voluntarily muzzled Jimmy in farewell, whinnied a little, then obediently loped off on his errand. Jimmy, then, was slid into the gloomy interior of the ambulance. Flaherty and the surgeon got in beside him, and the agonizing trip to the hospital bed of pain was begun forthwith.

In her little flat, as hallowed from the noises and alarms of the smothering city streets around her as are convent walls in the midst of war, Mrs. Ford busied herself about the loving tasks of her happy, withal lonely, household. Ruth had stopped in for an affectionate chat while on her morning marketing tour. Innocence. Light hearts. No clouds.

The shaggy giant remained on guard.

"Who's that at the door? I do believe it's Rinty scratching there. It is Rinty. Hear him whimper. Oh! Oh!" The Widow caught her breath in a swift presentiment of evil; stock still and white she stood, rigid and deathlike in her presensory waiting, while Ruth quickly flung wide the door. Rinty trotted in; not with hanging head or backward gait, nor yet with his usual good-natured bound. But rather with gravity and dignity in every noble line. He crossed directly to the Widow, and raising himself upon his hind legs, gently touched her hair once with his tongue, and then gazed unblinkingly full into her alarmed eyes with such deep sympathy and love and understanding and compassion, that the Widow could not help but feel more at ease.

"What is it, Rinty, old fellow," she coaxed. "Why have you come home? Where is Jimmy?" Rinty's long muzzle, wagging downward peculiarly, called her attention, as he desired, to the white paper fastened to his collar. With trembling fingers she undid it; but while she felt aimlessly for her spectacles, Ruth quickly took the paper and read its brave message.

For a long, long moment after Ruth's tearful words ceased, there was a heavy silence, fraught with the fears that must ever be the portion of the womenfolk of men of action and daring—the womenfolk who wait at home, in fishing cottage, or miner's hut, or policeman's flat.

Through it, Rinty drew feelingly aside, and watched first one face, then the other; it was as if his big dog heart knew that this was a moment which called for delicacy, for non-intrusion.

Presently Mrs. Ford stepped to the doorway of the parlor and gazed in upon the portrait of her husband—her husband whose name was in glory carved upon that bronze tablet. Police Headquarters by which the City of New York commemorates the memory of those of her guardians who have given their lives in the performance of their duty. Gazed long and prayerfully, almost as if in a spiritual trance; Ruth and Rinty stood watching her, the while—scarcely breathing, each feeling the sanctity of this close communion between beloved ones, quick and dead. At last the gentle Widow said in a voice vibrant with self-sacrifice and exalted purpose:

CHAPTER 8

The good Widow Ford attributed it to her prayers, joined to those of her departed husband, Ruth girlishly said it was her love and her confidence that God did not intend to deprive them of the bright future they had planned together; Captain O'Brien and the cops of the Precinct said that it was undoubtedly due half to the lady's unquenchable thirst for vengeance against the Hudson Busters, and half to the pride he felt because the famous Commissioner himself had personally visited his hospital cot, and had pinned on him a sergeant's shield and a departmental medal for conspicuous bravery, the Hudson Busters, themselves, thought it was just plain bad luck—for them; while the doctors in the hospital attributed it to his marvelous pluck and constitution.

Whichever it was to whomever or whatever the credit was due—Jimmy Ford in the course of two lingering months, recovered from the would-be assassin's bullet. If Jimmy himself had been interviewed upon the matter, he would have laid the miracle directly to the graceful forepaws of the faithful pal of his heart. The shaggy, tireless giant who, by special dispensation of the police and hospital authorities, had remained constantly on guard at his bedside night and day, except for the brief intervals when he was taken out by Ruth for exercising. Through the first dangerous days, when Jimmy lay semi-conscious and the threat seemed on the point of snapping for all eternity, it was Rinty's large eyes that never closed, Rinty's tongue that gently laved the fevered wrists (when the nurse was not watching to scold), Rinty's alert instinct, that seemed a subconscious sentinel between Jimmy's tortured body and the shadowy Borderland, in his less tense periods, when the crisis had been safely bridged, it was Rinty's quiet and good-humored attention that cheered Jimmy the greatest number of hours. Of course, when the Widow and Ruth were there, Jimmy's human concerns lay with them; and Rinty, not enviously but with that superb self-effacement that is part and parcel of a thoroughbred dog's fealty, unobtrusively withdrew a little way, and from his haunches watched with gracious dignity, while his tall swished his unselfish pleasure upon the spick and span linoleum floor. But it was Rinty who was with Jimmy the majority of the tedious hours that he had to spend flat upon his back—and which would have been insufferably lonely, despite all the praise and the attentions, if it were not for the ever-present dog. Rinty slept beside that cot, and ate, and sat there. Such an arrangement was unheard of—and violated all the hygienic and sanitary canons of Hospital procedure. But it was arranged at Jimmy Ford's express request, and it helped Jimmy Ford to get well—which, according to the lenient Board of Health officials was "the main thing."

Then came the big day when Jimmy was driven home from the hospital personally by the Commissioner in that high official's luxurious private car, and was the recipient of a neighborhood celebration on Twenty-first Street like the like of which Chelsea had never seen before. Another full month elapsed before the lad's strength was sufficiently won back to make it advisable for him to return to duty. All this while, Rinty was on special leave, by grace of Captain O'Brien, and he strolled the streets those shortening autumnal days with Jimmy, while that young Master breathed back health in the out-of-doors. Rinty acted as a necessary guardian, too, for as Captain O'Brien said:

"Until you get your full strength back it wouldn't be safe for you to walk the streets without Rinty, because the Busters would find some way to pick a fight with you, and finish the job they tried to do that morning."

The Captain paused a moment, then watched Jimmy narrowly as he resumed: "You know, the Busters have been laying low, but word has come to me by the underground that they have sworn to get even with you for killing Black Mike and the Squeeze Kid."
